A circle of stones on a ledge on a hillside looking across the valley of the Allt Choire Mhuilinn, 9m in diameter. This may be a kerb cairn, though there is no sign of a cist, or the rock circle of a Bronze Age hut. It is close to a similar structure at 530654.01 and other nearby circles, but on the other side of the valley.
